SHERIDAN.—The following is from a correspondent to the New York World:

If I did not write of a man in every way remarkable, I should not venture to hope that any such record as herein proposed would have a self-sustaining interest. General Sheridan was thirty-three years of age on the 6th of last September. He is a little below the medium height, compactly built, and very active. His face is pleasant to look upon. It is not a handsome face. Brown and hardy with the exposure of many campaigns before and during the present war, it is the soldier's ideal of a face in everything. It has gray eyes (I think the eyes are gray,) that gleam on appropriate occasions with fascinating humor or savage fire. Black hair, and black mustache, and whiskers slightly tinged with gray, crown and wreath, a countenance whose smile is that of a courtier, whose frown is positively tempestuous.

Gen. Sheridan habitually wears a full-dress frock coat, and usually a fatigue cap. His manner is frank, cordial, straightforward, at all times, never assuming, never overbearing. You should see him strolling about camp with his hand in his trowsers pockets, his square shoulders slightly elevated, his head bent in meditation, or occasionally lifted to ask, or reply to, a question from one of his staff. His gait is light, elastic, half fanciful. It reminds you of a boy kicking at pebbles. His voice is musical and merry as a woman's. He tells a story or gets off a jest, with a soft, slow utterance that suggests withheld laughter. It is impossible to conceive a more winning, graceful manner than that which he assumes, or which is natural, when he wishes to be kind.

Underneath all those "winning ways," there is—concealed in ordinary moments—a dominating and sometimes, inconsiderate will. He has, in fact, another "way" with him, decidedly. His staff, while nearly all in love with him, are sometimes hard-worked to a pitch of swearing that even the general himself could not surpass.

Did I say General Sheridan swore?

There may as well be a clean breast of it. He certainly has an opulent store of oaths—the richest, raciest oaths that ever cursed a laggard line of infantry or damned a cavalry squadron on to a sweeping charge. His oaths have a projectile force and tell. This is their merit. No loud, boastful, reckless, blackguard swearing, but an energetic adaptation of profanity to certain ends, which it is, sooth to say, are very nearly unaccomplished.

The omission to this allusion to swearing would be cowardly and foolish. Therefore I have written it. If there be any reader in whose estimation the character of one of the best and noblest generals this war has brought forth sinks with the words, he is not worthy to estimate manhood. Of all the catalogue of vanities mourned over by the ancient preacher, how vain and indistinct and nothing become the ordinary vices of men when set beside that sublime virtue of self-sacrifice, defiant of an ever swooping death, that gilds afar and faint the courses of ordinary life, but which is set star-like on a thousand crests upon the field of battle!

Through the ordeal of fire, passing often fearless and unscathed, this man whom the nation honors to-day has arisen to be so worthy that all the mocking breath in Christendom cannot make him appear less so to all true men. To see him on the field is to say, "Is it not glorious to be a commander?" He is energy and enthusiasm incarnate. He rides, an urging, impelling presence, wherever the battle rages. He thinks constantly of how he shall make every muscle in his army do a telling work, when he girds himself to his cruel work. Here is a chance for the cavalry. The cavalry goes in. Here is a weak point that a brigade may succeed in piercing. The character of the firing shows that the enemy is weak. More troops are hurried in upon them.

A HERO GONE.—Among the killed at the assault on Fort Fisher, we observe the name of Col. Moore. This was our old friend, Lieut. Orlando H. Moore, promoted in 1862 for gallant and meritorious conduct in Kentucky. We first became acquainted with Lieut. Moore in 1861, by reason of a quarrel, in which certain miscreant "sprigs of chivalry" (some of whom are now training in the Union party) sought to take his life in a duel—the real ground of offence being that he stood there alone, a solitary Yankee among the officers, having the temerity to entertain "Black Republican" principles and vote for Lincoln in 1860. He was willing to fight, however, declaring that he "would rather fight a rascal than a gentlemen:" but his selection of weapons proved too much for them, and his antagonist failed to "come to time." He was afterwards sent North, and subsequently ordered to the seat of war, where he served gallantly and fell gloriously.—Solano Herald.

BEECHER ON THE NATIONAL DEBT.—In course of one of his recent sermons, Henry Ward Beecher touched on the subject of our national debt in the following language: "Admit that at the end of this war the debt shall reach three thousand million of dollars. It is computed by able economists, whose figures I think do not lie, that if the ratio of increase of population and of wealth shall continue to be in the future what it has been in the past, a period will arrive in the year 1900, or about thirty-five years hence, when an assessment on the property of the whole country of one and sixteen-hundredths—less than one and a quarter per cent.—will pay the whole debt. But we do not assess property; we only assess the products of property. And in the year 1900 an assessment or tax on the products of the industry of the country of five per cent., if the ratio of increase shall continue to be in the future what it has been in the past, will pay the whole debt. I am sure we do not need yet to be afraid.

A CURIOSITY SALE IN PARIS.—The Hotel Drouot, in Paris, that classic spot where virtuosi most do congregregate, was recently the scene of a most interesting auction. The curiosities collected by the Grand Referendary Fosse d'Argosse were offered to the public. An hour glass, said to have belonged to Henri II., was sold for £80. An instrument, the use of which has hardly descended to our degenerate days, with which that virtuous man and good cook, the Regent Orleans, used to mix his snuff, brought £6 5s., the happy purchaser going off radiant with joy; and a pocket lantern, of the anti-lucifer match period, very chaste, and belonging to poor Marie Antoinette, realized £1 14s. 2d.

THEY ATE, DRANK, AND DIED.—The Tuolumne Courier, relates the following:

On New Year's day, a party of Chilenos had a dinner and jollification at French Camp, some four or five miles above Columbia. On the Tuesday following, one of them died, and three others of the party have deceased since. One of the latter died in Columbia this week. The proprietor of the house where the party dined, a Frenchman, has also been near his end, but is now recovering. It is reported that the cause of death was from drinking poisoned wine. It is also said that they partook of some beans which had stood over night in a copper kettle.

TO HER EVERLASTING GLORY.—We are informed that Mrs. Caroline Lewis, the colored woman whose death by suffocation is recorded in the Alta, was widely known for her deeds of charity; a charity which did not stop at home altogether, but extended to those of other races than her own as well. Her last act, before lying down on the bed from which she was destined to rise no more alive, was to go out and purchase bread to be given in charity to a Spanish family, who were in the extremity of want and hunger.

"And He who seeth in secret shall reward thee openly."

ANECDOTE OF "DUNN BROWNE."—An answer which he gave when under examination for settlement at Madison may serve as a type of the minister and the man. Dissatisfied with the candidate's previous answers on the subject of Divine agency, a hyper-Calvanistic member of the council insisted on knowing definitely whether the man with the withered hand healed himself or was healed by the Savior. "Well," said Mr. Fisk, "I always supposed the man had a hand in it." The beauty of the answer is that the wit is not more perfect than the theology.—Professor Tyler.

Secretary Fessenden includes the following estimates for expenditures on the San Francisco Harbor Defences in his statement relative to appropriations needed for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1866, which was submitted to Congress December 5th: Fort at San Francisco Bay, $100,000; Fort at Alcatraz Island, $330,000; additional defences at San Francisco, $100,000.

Our Foreign Relations.

Notwithstanding all the sensation rumors that have prevailed from time to time during the last six months, the United States have preserved, and is likely to maintain friendly relations with all foreign powers—at least until such time as we can afford to break those friendly relations by being relieved of the weight of rebellion and civil war.

Not long since the New York World announced in the uncertain, sensation style of modern prophecy, that England and France were bound to recognize the seceded States on the fourth of March next, they having concluded to give President Lincoln during his first term, to coerce the Southern brethren, and determined, that if not done by the time of his second inaugural, it never would be done. Later still, the New York Tribune smelt out a conspiracy said to be brewing among the Roman Catholic powers. There was to be a second era of crusades: Catholicism against liberty, and in favor of the Confederate States and slavery; though for the credit of the good common sense left among us, these "chimeras dire" were allowed a hearing, without in the least affecting the peace of mind of the American people.

To-day our relations with European powers are most satisfactory. England has resolved upon a course of honorable and sincere neutrality; and the English people as a mass, sympathize with the Union sentiment of our country, however much of prejudice may exist in the High Tory Aristocracy. We need expect no more piratical crafts to clear from British ports, and if the blockade running is carried on by English capital, it is done against the discouraging efforts of the English Government, and those who seek the chances of a profit, in many cases, realize the certainty of a loss.

Reverse the situation, and suppose that the same inducement of gain was offered the American people, who doubts that it would be equally improved. So, however much we may have felt injured by English action, or want of action in the past, we have no reason to anticipate trouble from her in the present or in the future.

Not long since there was a speck of war upon the Canadian border. The fact that desperate men were leagued to destroy our cities and ravage the frontier—proved by various efforts made and frustrated, and confirmed by the bloody and inhuman scenes of the St. Albans raid—was too much to be borne with complacency, but as a result—we trust of the good feeling due to us by the British provinces, though it may have been of the indignation so energetically and emphatically uttered and acted on by our press, people and Government, or it may have been due to both—the Canadian Courts have repudiated and over-ruled the action of the judge that released the St. Albans raiders from custody and refused to surrender them to our Government upon requisition. The Canadian Government has used with success every effort to secure their rearrest, and upon its call, the people of the Canadas have volunteered to man the frontier and secure us from the danger, and themselves from the disgrace of future raids. But it is remarkable that while the Canadian Government assisted by the English-Canadian people have done this, the French-Canadians have rebelled by force against the efforts to raise men by drafting, to protect the Northern border, while the French-Canadian press maintain that the raiders, if really in the employ of the Confederate Government, have rights superior to any provisions of reciprocity treaties.

French sentiment controls Frenchmen everywhere. The Canadian who never saw La Belle France, but inherited a French tongue and Gallic instinct upon the shores of the St. Lawrence—the Creole similarly circumstanced at the mouth of the Mississippi, are almost as correct a reflex of the sentiment that governs Paris, as the Parisian. Napoleon followed the coup d'etat that made him Emperor, with the declaration that his imperial instincts were for "peace," and so they have tended so far as his own ambition, and the restless character of Frenchmen in general, could be satisfied with that state of things.

Very wily he has been ever. Never less so than when interfering with American affairs.—That he did not recognize the seceded States, and even assist them with fleets and armies, was simply because his ally across the channel bluntly refused to second him, and he ascertained by a simple process of addition and subtraction, that more was to be lost than gained, by "going it alone." Brittannia—with all our complaints of her—has found ties she could not break; blood, trade, civilization, unity of sentiment on all important matters, made her shrink from attempting our ruin, while "the Empire" across the channel, though bound to us by ancient sympathy—which was after all based more upon Gallic hate of Britain than love for us, sympathizes with our foes. We remember LaFayette with Washington, but he was an exception of a Frenchman, and there have been many notable exceptions since his time. The latest memory we have, is that the trickster Bonaparte is not our friend, though fearing to become our enemy—and his latest idea of peace is to secure a piece of Mexico. He formed a specious pretext to declare war and commence invasion, to overturn the Government and found an Empire with a German Prince upon the throne, aping the mingled splendors of the Montezumas and the Bonapartes; and last of all, when every former act has been an insult to the traditions of our history, he plants a renegade American as his confidential agent, in the borrowed provinces and States, that border us on the Pacific.

Our foreign relations are all friendly and we have policy enough in our statesmanship to maintain them so awhile. Sonora and adjoining States may prove of inestimable value to us if they offer a city of refuge to the traitors that afflict our peace, and by securing their emigration restore peace to us. Maximilian, in a diplomatic sense, is unknown to us, has never been recognized and never will be, it is safe to say; but he the puppet and Napoleon the wire puller may recognize in time that American soil is no place to play foreign antics upon, and that the Monroe doctrine is no myth.

GEN. SICKLES.—A good deal of fun is being had over the non-arrival of that distinguished individual at San Francisco, as the committee of citizens had made arrangements to receive him handsomely, and when on going aboard the steamer to greet him found that he had never intended to come to California.

RATHER PROFITABLE.—The Keans left San Francisco lately, having completed a very profitable engagement. The receipts, while they were acting, amounted to $60,000, half of which fell to them.

Brigadier General Stephen Coffin has [illegible] the following report:

HEADQUARTERS SECOND BRIGADE O. S. M.,
Portland, February 15, 1865.

His Excellency, Addison C. Gibbs, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the State of Oregon—SIR:

Having this day tendered a resignation of the office of Brigadier General of the Second Brigade, I beg leave to refer to some of my acts since I have had command of the Brigade.

Since I [illegible] the position assigned me, I have caused to be organized the following companies, viz: First Regiment, Company A, organized by Capt. W. S. Powell, now commanded by Capt. J. T. W[illegible]; Co. [illegible] S. Ma[illegible]; Co. C, E. G. Randall; Co. D, T. [illegible] Page, now commanded by Capt. Stone; Co. [illegible] A. Tanner. Second Regiment, Company A, organized by Capt. S. L. May; Co. B, A. [illegible]; now commanded by E. Miller; Co. C, E. B. Laughlin; Co. D, J. M. Butler. Third Regiment, Company A, organized by Capt. Patterson, now commanded by Capt. J. H. McC[illegible]; Co. B, John Bowling, now commanded by Chas. Mealy; Co. C, W. J. Shipley; Co. D, T. W. [illegible]; Co. E, Stephen Raggen; Co. F, A. J. Rogers, now commanded by J. H. Miller; Co. G, S. H. Miller.

These companies were organized in accordance with the provisions of law, officers were elected and commissioned, and so far as the organization was concerned, the militia in my Brigade have been well prepared to perform the duties usually expected of such troops; and it is but justice to officers and men to state that, in my opinion, they have at all times since the organization of said companies been prepared and held themselves in readiness to respond to a call from the Commander-in-Chief for active service in the field, either to resist an invading foe or to chastise an Indian enemy, either in the midst of our State or adjacent Territories.

Before closing this brief epitome of what this Brigade has performed, I beg leave, most respectfully, to suggest to your Excellency, that, in my opinion, could an arrangement be effected between the United States Government and the State of Oregon, these troops, as well as the other militia of the State, if need be, could be made available in garrisoning the military posts in the State and adjoining Territories, and in punishing the hostile Indians who may commit depredations on our people, at less expense to the United States than in the present mode; because, as I conceive to be the fact, many of these companies would willingly go into active service as militia, if permitted to do so under their own organization when the men composing the companies will not volunteer into the service of the United States to perform the same services, even at the same rate of compensation. The reason of this is, they are not less patriotic, but are more partial to their own neighborhood organizations, and having selected their own officers would be willing to endure hard service under them, in the State organization, if needed for actual service in the field. Hence, if it could be done, I think the militia could be placed on a more formidable footing, and would be more reliable for defense or aggression, under the immediate control of the Commander-in-Chief than under the present arrangement.

There need not be any trouble in my opinion at any time, in obtaining any force which the State would reasonably be called upon by the United States to furnish; provided they could be received as militia under their own organization, and paid as other troops.

And I would impress upon your Excellency the importance of making an effort to effect some such arrangement with the War Department, should any further call be made upon our State for troops, fearing, as I do, that unless the militia of the State can be permitted to take some part in the operations, sharing in the toils, the dangers and the honors of those who go forth to defend their homes, the property and the lives of our people, they may cease to feel an interest in the organization, thereby causing the system to fall into disuse, disorganization and decay.

I have the honor to remain, most respectfully, your obedient, &c.,

STEPHEN COFFIN,
Brigadier-General Commanding.

TO BE HUNG TO-DAY.—Henry Deadmond, convicted of the murder of George Meek and Isbell, is to expiate his crime to-day upon the scaffold at the Dalles. Though the evidence that procured his conviction was entirely circumstantial, the general impression of his guilt and the justice of his sentence remains unchanged. A great effort has been made to secure his pardon or the commutation of his sentence, and many names have been procured to the petition by such means as are usually used—misrepresentation and whisky—paid for by the money furnished by his friends; but few of the best citizens have signed it. The unfortunate man is completely indifferent to his fate, and has actually gained twenty pounds in flesh since the time of sentence. He remains in a confident state, believing that he will be pardoned, reprieved or delivered by his friends. He has no compunctions apparent, though no doubt he this morning wakes up to a realizing sense he has not had before. It is said that he confessed every particular of the murder to a fellow-prisoner named Vaughn, who has since been discharged and has repeated the circumstances. Vaughn's story accords with the evidence on the trial, which he did not hear, otherwise, it is fair to say, his reputation for veracity would not bear him out. According to his story, he was telling Deadmond of a man in California who was sent to the penitentiary for killing a Chinaman, and who killed another after his discharge, when Deadmond incidentally said: "If I get clear of this I never will never kill another"—upon the strength of which unintended admission Vaughn extracted the whole story of the murder from him as follows: Deadmond had entertained the idea and intended the murders several days, but his heart failed him. He shot Meek when out hunting; drew up his gun four times, the last time fired and killed him. He then returned to camp and secreted himself near the creek, where he shot the other man, young Isbell, as he came to dip some water, then mounted a horse, first securing some two thousand dollars upon the body of Meek. He rode hard three days, and coming to some house, secreted the saddle behind a rock, and told them that he had rode bareback, pursued by Indians, and escaped with difficulty. If he has made this confession, he will probably confirm it before his execution; and many circumstances tend to confirm Vaughn's statement. Deadmond manifests a cold-blooded indifference seldom equalled in the conduct of the most hardened criminals.

TREASURE IN MEXICO.—The Emperor Maximilian, says a German journal, has a chance of digging out hidden treasure. The high romantic story was as follows:

When Napoleon I. dethroned the Bourbons in Spain, the Mexicans, whose eyes had been opened by Humboldt to the effect that they were a nation of 7,000,000, and subdued by 80,000 Spaniards, became encouraged and threw off the Spanish yoke. The Vice King sent, during the revolution, 4,000,000 of gold pieces, together with other numerous treasures, to Madrid. This happened in June, 1808. The escort was, however, attacked, by 100 men and massacred, save one cavalry officer and a few of his men, who acted in concert with the robbers. To avoid the vigilance of the Government, the bandits concluded to hide the treasure in the ground, and to divide it after the expiration of one year. At the foot of a precipice 1,000 feet high in a hollow deep in the mountains was a cave; there the treasure was dragged, the cave walled up by the same kind of rocks, the intervals filled with earth and plants; and, finally, a little brook was directed in such a manner as to pass like a cataract over the place. Now the robbers spread out the rumor that the whole story of the robbery was invented by the Vice King himself, and that he had brought the treasure in safety. The so accused was called to account. But the robbers did not enjoy the treasure, as already before the expiration of the year they had either killed themselves among each other or were detained. A Sicilian traveler named Muller, celebrated by his climbing the Peak of Orizaba, learned the secret from a dying [illegible] Indian. The Imperial Government is now about to place has been pointed out by Muller, [illegible] to search for the treasure, as the historical facts seem to justify the truth of the story.

GOOD DIVIDENDS.—The Gould & Curry Mine lately paid a dividend of $75 per foot, also the Savage Company. Our [illegible] friends expect to do something of that kind before the summer is over.

Thomas Hardy, late of Copperopolis, and part owner of the Union Copper Mine, from which he recently sold out, last Saturday contributed $570 to the Sanitary Fund.

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 15, 2:50 P. M.—The weather is stormy. It has been snowing here all day, thermometer 16°.

FORT LARAMIE, Feb. 15, 2:50 P. M.—The mountaineers are moving; they are getting alarmed on account of their stock.

He reports that he has got two parties out repairing the line, with a sufficient force of poles and wire to complete the line to Pole creek by to-morrow evening or next morning. Capt. Weatherwax, of the First Nebraska, will probably have the line from Pole creek to Julesburg in working order by the same time. Lieut. The arrival of two fast clipper ships from New York, with a large cargo of fresh and desirable goods has a very stimulating effect upon the market. Jobbers are eager purchasers of candles, rice, Hawaiian sugar and other staples. Bacon and lard are also objects of special interest. Rice market is very active at advanced rates. THE WORLD RENOWNED

SINGER SEWING MACHINES!

MANUFACTORY:

182, 184, 186, 188, 190 and 194 Mott street, New York.

Moreover The Singer Sewing Machines are the only Machines that can sew all kinds of Cloth and with all kinds of Thread.

Singer's Letter A Family Machine is the best and cheapest Machine in the world for Family Sewing. There is no doubt as to the value of our Machines for manufacturing purposes, but it is only of late that the public begin to learn that the essential elements of a Machine best adapted to the heaviest work, would also be the elements to be embodied in a Family Machine.

We would ask for our Letter A Machines the attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want Machines for Light Manufacturing Purposes. They embody the principles of the Manufacturing Machines, making, like them, the interlocked stitch and are destined to be as celebrated for FAMILY SEWING and Light Manufacturing purposes, as our Manufacturing Machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

FAMILY SEWING MACHINES are valuable in proportion to the number of things they can do well. See what ours can do before making a purchase.

All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their sizes, prices, working capacities, and the best method of purchasing, can obtain it by sending for a copy of the SINGER MANUFACTURING COMPANY'S Illustrated Pamphlet, which is entirely devoted to the subject. It will be sent Gratis.

HAVING BEEN COMPELLED TO ACCEPT OF LEGAL TENDER NOTES AT PAR since December 17th, 1862, for the Rent of my Handsome Brick Store, corner of Morrison and Front streets, I feel compelled to announce for the benefit of the public at large, that

Jacob Mayer

Leased the building of me on the 17th day of February, 1862, for a term of years at which time there was no such currency in existence, and it was understood the terms were CASH. Since that date I have stated I have received the depreciated currency regularly, under protest for the rent of the

CITY OF PARIS STORE,

Making less than two-thirds of the real amount said Mayer was to pay. He has secured the building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract, and pay in COIN, would be getting the best bargain in the city. I make this statement to show the public with what kind of a man he [illegible] to take such advantage of the times to save a few dollars to himself by LEGAL SWINDLING. MEETING OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.—The regular weekly meeting of the Common Council was held at the Council Chamber at seven o'clock last evening.

Mayor Failing occupied the Chair.

The following members were present—Councilmen Bennett, Cook, Frazar, Gilmore, McCraken, Robertson, Starr. Absent—Messrs. Gradon, and Hoffman.

The records of the previous meeting were read by the Clerk and approved by the Council.

A Petition was received from Wm. B. Clarke in reference to obstructions on Washington street, west of First, and asking for a remission of license for a month, in consequence of the same.

On motion to refer the petition to the ways and means committee, Mr. McCraken stated, that as chairman of that committee he was not supposed to know anything about obstructions to streets and would amend by referring the petition to the streets and public property committee.

Mr. Frazar was opposed to remitting license in such cases, as an established rule of that character would work disadvantages too numerous for the Council to overcome. Messrs. Opitz, Sa[illegible] & Co. had been granted the use of the street for thirty days, in their building operations, and it was certainly not intended they should block up the side-walk, if they had, the Street Commissioner should notify them to open it to the public.

Mr. Starr had objections, but he understood what petitioner wished was to have the side-walk unobstructed, and that should be done. The time had expired for which the builders asked permission to use the street, and if they wanted any further time they should ask for it. Petition was referred to the last named committee.

A petition from Messrs. McCormick, Stewart and others, relative to a fire cistern at the junction of Columbia and First streets, was referred to the committee on fire and water.

A petition from Messrs. Ripley, Silvers, and others, asking for the removal of obstructions from the foot of Salmon street, was referred to the committee on streets and public property.

A petition from Messrs. Ainsworth, Burnside and others, relative to the boundaries of A street were referred to the same committee.

The Chief Engineer, upon recommendation, was authorized to purchase oil for use of the Engine companies.

Claims against the city were taken up and warrants ordered to be drawn upon the appropriate funds as follows:

Fund for the improvement of streets and public property—T. Peterson, $11; N. Northrup, $[illegible]; J. H. Egan, $25 75, referred to committee.

Fund for Police and Sanitary expenses—H. L. Hoyt, fees as City Marshal, attendance on Council, etc., $256 90; J. F. McCoy, fees as City Recorder, etc., $156 35; W. P. Blake, Deputy Marshal, $100; P. Saunders, Deputy Marshal, $100; [illegible] Camper, $2.

Fund for the expenses of the Fire Department—C. H. Myres, $196 49; Joseph Tucker, $[illegible]; J. O. Wing, $7 50.

Fund for salaries of officers—H. R. Mocke, $150; H. L. Hoyt, commission as collector, up to January 13th, $35 15.

Fund for miscellaneous expenses—J. L. Parrish & Co., Recorder's Docket, $15; W. D. Carter, Treasurer's blanks, $14; Weil Bros. & Co., rent of Council Chamber for month of January, $40; [illegible] Warren, $5 50.

Bill of E. J. Northrup & Co., for $28 65, was ordered to be paid from fund for passed indebtedness.

Bills of Gas Light Company and H. L. Pittock were referred.

A resolution was adopted changing the regular meetings of the Council to Friday evening of each week, at 7 o'clock.

On motion Council adjourned.

THE CHINESE.—The question of abatement of the Chinese nuisance was brought before the Grand Jury of the Circuit Court yesterday, and we are in hope enough evidence may be produced to remove the entire race of Celestials from the bounds of our city, if not sufficient to transport them in a body to the "Flowery Kingdom." In the first place they have no right whatever to be here; they are filthy and abominable; their wash houses are liable to breed contagious diseases, of every character; they are never without fire in their stoves, day or night, and their careless manner of using fire is liable to burn any premises they occupy; their close proximity to other branches of business creates an onerous rate of insurance; they occasion the poor class of civilized people much want from the fact that they monopolize the laundry business, and not one redeeming qualification can be spoken in their favor. These things are perfectly well understood by the community at large, but the evidence for the indictment is scarcely attainable, under the present laws of our State, and the moon-eyed whelps are shrewd enough to know it, through their legal advisers. There is a disposition to treat them according to their just deserts, which may be accomplished by the next term of Court. Colonize them, restrict them to certain limits, as in San Francisco, if nothing more.

COUNTY COURT.—The Jury were out all night on the case of Rosenheim vs. Fisher, tried on Wednesday, and failing to agree were discharged yesterday. The case had occupied the Court the entire day, and was brought for the recovery of damages, for injuries inflicted upon plaintiff's child by defendant's horse. The trial excited much interest and was conducted with ability and energy by Hon. Wm. Strong and John Catlin, Esq., for the defendant, and by Leopold Wolfe, Esq., and Wm. F. Trimble, Esq., for the plaintiff. The very earnest and learned argument of Mr. Wolfe secured him the admiration of his hearers, and elicited deep sympathy for the cause of his client. The case was given to the Jury at at 5 o'clock P. M., but after being in council all night they returned into Court yesterday morning with the above result. A large number of cases were brought up for trial yesterday, but no further business was disposed of.

THEATRICAL.—The talented and favorite artiste Mrs. S. M. Irwin came before a Portland audience at Willamette Theatre last evening on the occasion of her first benefit in Oregon. The plays selected for the evening, and in which the entire company acquitted themselves with credit, were the sparkling comedies of "Faint Heart Never won Fair Lady," and the "American Cousin." No audience could have been better pleased, as the plays were unusually excellent and well rendered. No performance will be given at the Willamette this evening, but for to-morrow evening "Colleen Bawn" and "Dred, or the Dismal Swamp," will be produced, the mention of which should be sufficient to fill the house.

CHARTER GRANTED.—We are informed that a charter was granted to the Medical College of this city, at a meeting of the Trustees of the Willamette University of Salem, on Wednesday evening last. Suitable buildings will soon be erected for the accommodation of the institution, which is to be a branch of the University above named. The interest already manifested in the College by medical and scientific men generally, warrants the belief that it will be pushed forward to the immediate accomplishment of the purposes for which it was designed.

BRIDGING THE RAPIDS.—Workmen were engaged in the rain yesterday bridging the rapids on Front street. This reminds us of the Arkansas theme—when the weather is pleasant no [illegible] are necessary, when rainy it was disagreeable to do the job. But why the necessity for this when even now, with summer so close at hand, when permanent improvements of the prominent streets are expected, we are a loss to understand, unless it is the intention to run the city on the Clay bank up to the hub, for another decade of years. We ask the authorities, in behalf of nine-tenths of the population of Portland, is this so?

THE STOCK AND EXCHANGE BOARD.—The Stock and Exchange Board have effected a temporary organization by the selection of Harrison [illegible]stead, Esq., President, and Benj. L. Norden, Secretary. They meet at their Rooms over Ladd & Tilton's Bank to-day, for the adoption of by-laws and the transaction of other business.

COMMERCIAL.—The barkentine Jane A. Falkinburg, Capt. Moss, arrived at San Francisco Tuesday evening.

FIRE ALARM TELEGRAPH.—The San Franciscans will soon have a fire alarm telegraph at work in their city. There will be sixty signal boxes and thirty miles of wire in connection with it, and the effect will be to instantaneously give intelligence of any fire that occurs in any part to all other parts of the city.

A Card.—The Steamboatmen of Portland desire to return their thanks to Mr. H. H. JOHNSON, of Portland, for his kindness and attention to one of their number—the late JAMES McMULLEN, during his sickness and death.

INTERESTING, IF TRUE. — The Louisville Journal states that another Major General was in that city just before the recent battles near Nashville with orders to the front to supersede General Thomas. It seems, according to that paper, that his policy was not an endorsement of his rear at [illegible] Nashville was thought to be wrong and when he retreated there he was too slow, and the people and the authorities complained, so his recall was decided upon. His successor was appointed and reached Louisville on his way to Nashville, but paused when it was announced that Thomas had remounted his cavalry, furnished his artillery with fresh horses and made a sally upon the left of the rebel line, and in twenty four hours [illegible] Hood's divisions upon one another in a maze of entanglement. His gallant successor says the Journal was delighted, for he is a true patriot and a courageous soldier and learned nothing but the defeat of the rebels. He turned to other fields. His name is said to be John A Logan.

OF INTEREST TO LADIES. — The fashion of having embroidery on cloaks, ladies dresses and in fact garments of almost every description is rapidly on the increase in this country — imported as are other fashions from Paris. CONSUMPTION.

There is scarcely one individual in the community who wholly escapes, during a season, from some one, however slightly developed of the above symptoms — a neglect of which might lead to the last named, and most to be dreaded disease in the whole catalogue. The power of [illegible] of the Wild Cherry Tree over this class of complaints is well known, so great is the good it has performed, and so great the popularity it has acquired.

In this preparation besides the virtues of the Cherry there are commingled with it other ingredients of like value, thus increasing its value ten fold, and forming a Remedy whose power to soothe, to heal, to relieve, and to cure disease exists in no other medicine yet discovered.

The unequalled success that has attended the application of this medicine in all cases of has induced many physicians of high standing to employ it in their practice, some of whom advise us of the fact under their own signatures. We have space only for the names of a few of these: —

LE DOYEN'S

SARSAPARILLA, YELLOW DOCK

—AND—

IODINE ALTERATIVE

FOR THE

CONSTITUTION.

CLEANSE THE BLOOD.

WITH corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood you must be sick all over. It may burst out in pimples or sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. Sarsaparilla purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurities of the blood, such as Scrofula or King's Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, Syphilis or Venereal Diseases, Liver Complaints and Heart Diseases.

Blood and Liver.

This valuable Medicine is now available to the public for the cure of its operations are evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increasing the appetite. In cases of Dyspepsia, Emaciation and Debility an increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color, hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid.

SCROFULA, CONSUMPTION, RHEUMATISM, CANCER, HEART, LIVER AND KIDNEY DISEASES, NEURALGIA, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA, &c.

AS A TONIC,

Are you sick, feeble and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping over you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Le Doyen's Sarsaparilla, and cleanse out the disordered system — purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again.

AS A LITHONTRIPTIC,

it has no equal, being chemically combined with Iodine; it possesses in a high degree the power of dissolving Stone in the Bladder, and irritation of the kidneys, preventing gravel formation and enlargement of the prostrate glands, irritation of the neck of the bladder, dropsy, etc.

Returning Clouds.

The clouds are returning after the rain
All the long morning they steadily sweep
From the blue northwest, o'er the upper main,
In a peaceful flight to their eastern steep.

With sails that the cool wind fills for furling,
And shadows that darken the billowy grass,
Freighted with amber or piled with pearls,
Fleets of fair argosies rise and pass.

The earth smiles back to the smiling throng
From greening pasture and blooming field;
For the earth that had sickened with thirst so long,
Has been touched by the hand of the rain and healed.

The old man sits 'neath the tall elm trees,
And watches the pageant with dreamy eyes,
While his white locks stir to the gentle breeze
That shivers the silver along the skies.

The old man's eyes are wet with tears—
Tears of sweet pleasure and sweeter pain—
For both nights are driving back over the years
In beautiful clouds after life's long rain.

Sorrows that drowned all the springs of his life,
Trials that crushed him with pitiless beat,
Storms of temptation and tempests of strife,
Float o'er his memory tranquil and sweet.

And the old man's spirit, made soft and bright
By the long, long rain that had beat him low,
Sees a vision of angels on wings of white,
In the trooping clouds as they come and go.

A GREAT SERMON LOST AND FOUND.—Many of our readers are aware that a sermon of Dr. Beecher against dueling exerted a powerful influence in turning the public opinion of the North against the false code of honor to which so many valuable lives have been wantonly sacrificed. The history of that sermon is a very singular one, as given by Dr. Beecher in his Autobiography, published by the Harpers:

There never was such a sensation produced in the whole country, as when Aaron Burr fought a duel with Alexander Hamilton and killed him. When I read about it in the paper, a feeling of indignation was roused within me. I kept thinking and thinking, and my indignation did not go to sleep. I kept working and working, and finally I began to write. No human being knew what I was thinking and feeling, nor had any agency in setting me at work. It was the duel, and myself, and God, that produced that sermon.

I worked at it, off and on for six months, and when it was done, without consultation or advice, I preached it to my own people, and in obscure villages on the north side of the island, to see how it would sound. Finally, I preached it before the Presbytery at Aquebogue, April 16th, 1806.

The brethren all stared that I should venture on such a subject in such a place; but they eulogized the discussion, and thought it should be printed. So I fell to work fitting it for the press. But, after all, it came nigh not being printed, for, wanting some one to criticise it, and having no literary man in my congregation but John Lyon Gardiner, I sent it over to Gardiner's Island for him to read and criticise. A fortnight after, I went over. When I went into the house, and up to the fire, I met Mrs. Gardiner. Her husband was away.

"Have you found your sermon?" said she.

"Found it!" said I, quite thunderstruck at the question; "I did not know it had been lost."

"No?" said she; "but it is though."

And then she told me that her brother John had been over about a week ago, and they sent it by him; but he gave it to a neighbor to take over, who put it in his pea jacket pocket. In the middle of the bay, being warm with rowing, he threw off his coat, and the sermon fell into the water. He heard something splash, as he afterwards recollected, but did not notice it at the time.

So there I was. I supposed all was gone. I had all my rough sheets, and should have tried to regain it; but it was a doleful prospect, after working over it so long, and reading all the finishing off to Roxana, and Esther, and Mary Hubbard.

So I went to Gardiner's hands—he had some five hundred acres of the island farm, and thirty or forty men—and engaged them to watch the beach and see if anything came ashore, offering five dollars to the one that found it.

One day, a month after, I was at home cutting wood, when I spied a fellow running towards me swinging something in the air and grinning so that I could see his teeth fifteen rods off. There was my sermon, like Moses from the bulrushes. They had wrapped it in paper, and wound it round with yarn so closely that it was dry inside. As Providence had ordered it, a heavy storm and high tide had set in that same night when it was lost, and lodged it high and dry about a hundred rods from our landing place, above high-water mark. So I had it printed.

TOO EXPERT.—The celebrated Thomas F. Marshall being in the bar-room of the Capitol Hotel, at Frankfort, one night, got into an altercation with a young man by the name of William Sneed. Young Sneed, in great excitement, jerked out a pistol, and throwing it upon the counter, seized a glass tumbler, saying, "Now, Mr. Marshall, take that pistol, and I will take this tumbler and fight you, sir!" Captain Marshall, with one of his peculiar leers, replied to this challenge: "Ah, Billy, I am to smart for you; you can't fool me. We know that you are more expert with the glass than you are with the pistol."

At an evening party, many years since, at Lady Jersey's, every one was praising the Duke of B——, who had just come in, and who had lately attained his majority. There was a perfect chorus of admiration, to this effect: "Everything is in his favor—he has good looks, considerable abilities, and a hundred thousand pounds a year."

Rogers, who had been carefully examining the young ruler, listened to these encomiums for some time in silence, and at last remarked, with an air of exultation, and in his most venomous manner, "Thank God; he has got bad teeth!"

Professor Johnson was one day lecturing before the students on mineralogy. He had before him a number of specimens of various sorts to illustrate the subject; when a roguish student for sport, slily slipped a piece of brick among the stones. The professor was taking up the stones one after another, and naming them. "This," he said, "is a piece of granite; this is felspar," &c. Presently he came to the brickbat. Without betraying any surprise, or even changing the tone of his voice, "This," he said, holding it up, "is a piece of impudence."

A gentleman waited on Douglas Jerrold to ask aid in behalf of a musical friend in distress. It was not the first time an appeal had been made to him for the same person. On this occasion, therefore, the agent was received in any other but a complying humor. "Well," said Jerrold, "how much does — owe this time?" "Why, just as a four and two noughts will, I think," replied the petitioner, "put him straight." "Well then put me down for one of the noughts," said Jerrold.

A western editor sums up the peculiarities of a cotemporary as follows: "He is too lazy to earn a meal, and too mean to enjoy one. He was never generous but once, and that was when he gave the itch to an apprentice boy; so much for his goodness of heart. Of his industry he says the public may judge, when he states that the only time he ever worked was when he mistook castor oil for honey.

A fellow contemplated in utter wonderment the magnitudinous dimensions of a bystander's feet, in a tone of astonishment said, as he surveyed the man's proportions: "You would have been a tall man if they hadn't bent your legs so far up."

It is the tendency of the measles and scolding women to break out.

A MERCHANT'S STORY.—A member of a large mercantile firm recently gave me a bit of his early experience. Said he, "I was seventeen years old when I left the country store where I had 'tended' for three years, and came to Boston in search of a place. Anxious, of course, to appear to the best advantage, I spent an unusual amount of time and solicitude upon my toilet, and when it was completed I surveyed my reflection in the glass with no little satisfaction, glancing lastly and most approvingly upon a seal ring which embellished my little finger, and my cane, a very pretty affair, which I had purchased with direct reference to this occasion. My first day's experience was not encouraging. I traversed street after street; up one side and down the other, without success. I fancied toward the last, that the clerks all knew my business the moment I opened the door, and that they winked, ill-naturedly at my discomfiture as I passed out. But nature endowed me with a good degree of persistency, and the next day I started again. Towards noon I entered a store where an elderly gentleman stood talking with a lady at the door. I waited until the visitor had left, and then stated my errand. "No, sir," was the answer, given in a peculiarly crisp and decided manner. Possibly I looked the discouragement I was beginning to feel, for he added, in a kindlier tone, 'Are you good at taking a hint?' 'I don't know,' I answered, while my face flushed painfully. 'What I wish to say is this,' said he, smiling at my embarrassment, 'if I were in want of a clerk, I would not engage a young man who came seeking employment with a flashy ring upon his finger and swinging a fancy cane.' For a moment mortified vanity struggled against common sense, but sense got the victory, and I replied, with rather a shaky voice, I am afraid, 'I'm very much obliged to you,' and then beat a hasty retreat. As soon as I got out of sight I slipped the ring into my pocket, and walking rapidly to the Worcester depot, I left the cane in charge of the baggage-master 'until called for.' It is there now for aught I know. At any rate I never called for it. That afternoon I obtained a situation with the firm of which I am now a partner. How much my unfortunate finery injured my prospects on the previous day I shall never know, but I never think of the old gentleman and his plain dealing, without feeling, as I told him at the time, 'very much obliged to him.'"

Mrs. B., the wife of a gentleman in Cambridge, sent a message to Mrs. C., on the opposite side of the street, that she was annoyed by the barking of Mrs. C.'s dog, and demanded it to be stopped. No notice was taken of the first communication, but, the demand being repeated, the following reply was returned: "My compliments to Mrs. B., and tell her that I pay the tax on my dog, and he's entitled to bark as much as he likes."

HORRIBLE.—"The devil sowed tares," read Mrs. Siffkins from the Bible. "Ah," said her husband, "I wish you were like the devil."

The tongue is the mysterious membrane that turns thought into sound. Drink is its oil—eating is its drag-chain.

We are told to have hope and trust, but what's a poor fellow to do who can't get any trust?

New York, September 23 1864.

Between Commercial and Clay, San Francisco.

DEAR SIR, WE NOTICE AN ADvertisement in your daily papers respecting the "security" of the "Lillie" lock. We are aware that you well understand this lock, and, of course, will not allow yourself to be annoyed by such representations. We have just sent for one of our men at the factory, and he, in our presence, opened one of Lillie's best safe locks, after it had been locked and the combination turned on,

So Called "Fire Proof Safes."

On the 18th of February last, a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers, &c., all in the safe. After the fire the so called "safe" was taken from the ruins, and on opening it we found that

Everything had been Destroyed.

We send you the safe, with what is left of the papers, and you will see that not one of them is legible or strong enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we noticed McKenne & Hardy just opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make) and its contents were found to be

In Perfect Condition.

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible material in Messrs. McK. & H.'s cellar—such as lard, pork, etc., their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the clothing business and had but little in the cellar. There was another of Lillie's safes there subjected to the same fire ... however, no better than ours.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,
(Signed:) GEO. L. LUTCHESHORG & CO.

Proclamation.

STATE OF OREGON, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
January 12th, 1865.

WHEREAS I HAVE RECEIVED A REQUISITION from Major General Irwin McDowell, commanding the Department of the Pacific, acting under the authority of the War Department, for a regiment of Cavalry for another term of years, by recruiting, in whole or in part the Regimental and Company organization ... the present Oregon Regiment of Cavalry ... in the ... [illegible] ... hostile Indians in this Military District.

Now, therefore, I, Addison C. Gibbs, Governor of the State of Oregon and Commander in Chief of the Militia thereof, do hereby call upon the citizens of this State to organize themselves into companies sufficient to fill the foregoing requisition.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the State of Oregon [L. S.] to be affixed. Done at Salem this 12th day of January, A. D. 1865.

ADDISON C. GIBBS,
Governor of Oregon.

Attest: SAMUEL E. MAY,
Secretary of State.

Plan of Recruiting.

The Regiment will retain the name of the 1st Cavalry Oregon Volunteers. It will consist of twelve Companies—seven Companies of the old Regiment will be recruited to the minimum strength required. Five new Companies remain to be raised. A Recruiting Officer for each new Company will be appointed.

Commissions will be issued by the Governor to Recruiting Officers, conditioned that they shall recruit their respective Companies in the District to which they are assigned, and be ready to be mustered into the service within a time hereafter to be named. All the Officers for the new Companies and the First and Second Lieutenants for the old ones will be appointed as soon as the Companies are filled.

As soon as it is practicable, the State will be divided into Districts, according to the number of persons in each liable to do military duty and to the number of troops heretofore furnished. When such District has furnished its quota of men there will be no draft in the same under this call.

The State has provided by law for the payment of a bounty of $150 in State interest bearing bonds, payable in gold to each Volunteer mustered into the service for three years, in addition to the bounties authorized to be paid by the United States.

Under Act of Congress, those who enlist for one year are entitled to a bounty from the General Government of one hundred dollars; for two years, two hundred dollars, and for three years, three hundred dollars, one third of which is payable at the time of muster-in. Neither drafted men nor substitutes—furnished either before or after the draft—are entitled to bounty.

The wages of a Private soldier are $16 a month, besides clothing, equipments, rations, medicines and medical attendance, and other allowances furnished by the United States.

The pay per month is to 1st Sergeants of Cavalry $24; Sergeants $20; Corporals $18; Buglers, $16. A Company can be mustered in on reaching a minimum of 82 enlisted men.

All the Horses for enlisted men will be furnished by the Government!

Appreciating highly the patriotic action of the people in responding to the previous call for an Infantry Regiment, it is hoped that equal alacrity will be exhibited in raising a Regiment of Cavalry.

Organization of a Regiment.

From the army hospital—the bloody battlefield—the mansion of the rich, and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valley, and far off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world, is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office:

REEDSVILLE, Wis., Sept. 16, 1864.

* * * I have been in the army hospitals for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill., they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. * * *

SAVIN, WARSAW, O., July 28, 1863.

* * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $150 without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters.

EDWARD WOUNALL."

The following is from the manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:

HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST.,
New York, August 2, 1863.

DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs, with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well.

Respectfully,
MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.

REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use. Thy friend,

ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

* * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.

REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

* * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which is daily increasing with the guests of our house.

SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C."

* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.

G. W. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers Home, Cincinnati, O."

* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of Liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my business.

H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the Kidneys and Urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.

C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y.
etc. etc. etc. etc. etc.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

THE PROOFS OF ITS EFFICACY ARE SO NUMERous, so well authenticated and of such peculiar character, that sufferers cannot reasonably hesitate to receive the proffered aid.

The class of diseases for which the Syrup provides a cure is precisely that which has so often baffled the highest order of medical skill. The facts are tangible, the witnesses accessible, and the safety and efficacy of the Syrup incontrovertible.

Certificate of Dr. Hayes,

It is well known that the Medicinal effects of Protoxide of Iron is lost by even a very brief exposure to air, and that to maintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron, without further oxydation, has been deemed impossible.

In the Peruvian Syrup, this desirable point is attained by COMBINATION IN A WAY BEFORE UNKNOWN, and this solution may replace all the proto-carbonates, citrates and tartrates, of the Materia Medica. A. A. HAYES, M. D.

IODINE WATER.

IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DIScovery of modern chemistry, and it is impossible to overestimate its influence as a remedial agent. Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medica, and many of the most Scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is to act upon the

HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS and GLANDULAR SYSTEM,

and to have great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation, it remained almost useless, until Dr. Henry Anders, a physician and chemist of New York, after years of patient labor and experiment, discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve without a solvent. This, considered impossible by the scientific world, is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr. J. R. Chilton of this city, and Prof. Booth, U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended to practitioners—see "American Medical Monthly," July 6, 1856, page 76.

This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc.

AS A TONIC

Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble he becomes full, strong and florid.

Full directions accompany each bottle.

ALLEN'S
LUNG BALSAM!
The Remedy for Curing
CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,
Asthma, Croup,
Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form; IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, it only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

LEFFEL'S AMERICAN
DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL!

LEFFEL'S AMERICAN TURBINE HAS many advantages over all other Wheels, both Turbines and Overshot.

It has competed successfully with every variety of Wheel, and has always proved itself victorious.

This Wheel has been in use nearly Three Years in the States and HAS NEVER MADE A FAILURE.

It is CHEAPER than an Overshot, MORE DURABLE; and will YIELD A HIGHER PER CENT. OF POWER from the same quantity of water. We have introduced five on this coast. They are not all in operation yet, but will be in a few days. The following testimonial is from an old and experienced Mill-wright well known in this State:

WESTPORT, CLATSOP CO., OREGON,
Nov. 19th, 1864.

Messrs. LEFFEL & MYERS—Dear Sirs: We have plenty of water now, and your DOUBLE TURBINE is in successful operation. We are satisfied that your Wheel is fully equal, if not superior to the Overshot. With the same water that the overshot uses, we can do more work with the Turbine than with the Overshot. I have tried many Wheels which were claimed to be superior to an Overshot but yours is the first I have found. Hence we do not hesitate to recommend the American Double Turbine as the most efficient economizer of water in our knowledge.

JOHN WEST & CO.

We desire all who want Wheels to visit the following named places and their other demonstration of the above facts:

John West & Co., West Port, Clatsop County, Oregon;
